

Ways to Enjoy Spring in Maine Without Emptying Your Wallet

With winter officially coming to an end it means the days are getting longer, and warmer weather is creeping through! Staying active this Spring does not have to mean breaking the bank. Most people travel for miles to find locations with a range of outdoor activities, but Mainers are lucky because we can save money by exploring all the awesome options in our own backyard!

We are sharing some awesome ideas about how to take advantage of the nicer weather and great sights Maine has to offer!

Hiking/ Trails

Maine is known for the great outdoors! With so many hiking options and walking trails, it is hard to not go exploring. For a list of some of the top trails click here.

Wildlife watching

Moose, whales, puffins, oh my! One thing we are not short of here is an extensive list of wildlife. Many people come across deer and foxes in their own backyard! Visit Maine acts as a great resource of where you can find some of the more elusive animals in their habitats.

Shop & Eat Local

With so many great local boutiques and restaurants, we truly are spoiled. As we head into Spring, we know it can still tend to be a bit breezy, that is why we are so excited that so many restaurants have implemented some sort of outdoor heated seating. If you don't believe us, check out this list.

Lighthouse Hopping

Second most iconic to the Maine lobster, is a picturesque lighthouse. With no shortage of lighthouses located throughout the state you can pick and choose which ones you want to make a visit to.
